

Edward J. Kroger, MD, JD

Edward J. Kroger, MD, JD is the founding Partner of the law firm of Kroger I Frisby. He graduated from Baylor University in 1981. After graduation from the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas in 1985, he completed an internship in Internal Medicine. He then took a leave of absence to attend the University of Texas School of Law and earned his JD in 1989. He returned to Houston and finished his residency in 1991 and earned Board Certification in Internal Medicine.

His practice focuses on the defense of medical malpractice claims and health law related matters.

The Voice of Ethos

Legal and Ethical Dilemmas with the Rationing of Care

Rationing of health care services has become a significant topic of discussion by Americans and involves complex and competing financial, ethical, medical, and legal constraints. Edward Kroger will discuss the realities of existing and proposed rationing systems.

The objectives of his presentation are to have attendees:

- Appreciate the wide variety of ways health care is rationed
- Recognize when rationing is playing a role in a patient's care
- Evaluate ethical dilemmas associated with any rationing scheme